Sauvignon Blanc 2008

About this wine... A fruity and easy drinking white with tangy flavours of gooseberry and guava and a refreshing finish. The fruit is grown near Mendoza, in the foothills of the Andes, where the cool climate produces fresh, pure flavours. Winemaker, Cristian Garcia, carefully selects the fruit and picks at optimal ripeness. He uses cool fermentation techniques and eschews the use of oak to retain purity.

At its best... Serve lightly chilled with fish, salads or light, mild Thai and Chinese food. This wine is made to be drunk while fresh and young. Drink within 6 months of purchase. Once opened, keep in a re-sealed bottle in the fridge and finish within a few days.
