Limited MALBEC - 20XX Release

Jed wines are produced by three Australian winemakers who have been travelling to Argentina since 2006 to produce wines that express the unique characteristics of the Southern Uco Valley.

Jed Limited Release Malbec is grown in the foothills of the Andes Mountains, in the South of the Uco Valley. Year in, year out, grapes are sourced from the same vineyard. The southern locality and high elevation result in a cooler climate, yielding a bright and tight Malbec style. The fruit for this particular wine comes from a section of the vineyard with older vines and chalky soils. The vine age yields a dense and compact Malbec and the chalk in the soils here gives a savoury edge to the finished wine.
