

VIÑA
TARAPACÁ
SAUVIGNON BLANC / GEWÜRZTRAMINER
Terroir Late Harvest

The Isla Maipo region is located 40 km from the Pacific Ocean, and its main geographic influences are the Maipo River, which created its alluvial clay loam soils, and the proximity of the Pacific Ocean, which provides cool afternoon breezes. Selected lots of Late Harvest Gewürztraminer and Sauvignon Blanc are harvested late in May, this concentrates the sugars and flavors to give us the intense and luscious ripe apricot flavors of the Tarapacá Late Harvest wine.
